

White Rose University Consortium: College of Arts and Humanities

Arts and Humanities Research Culture in Japan

Academia

Funding

Employment

Many universities have their own websites for introducing part-time jobs to their students, but most of them are written only in Japanese. Take heed that part-time jobs for students are called アルバイト arubaito (バイト baito for short) in Japanese.

'Part-time' (パート pāto) normally refers to a part-time job mainly for housewives.

Check the following websites for more information:

Finding part-time job in Japan (Study in Japan)

Japanese student visa (Go! Go! Nihon Japan Wiki)

Work While Studying in Japan (Go! Go! Nihon Japan Wiki)

Guide Book 'Student Guide to Japan' by JASSO. Chapter 4 'Knowing Life in Japan' p. 41 'Part-time Work'

Link to the above Guide Book in Japanese, Chinese, Indonesian, Korean, Thai, Vietnamese, Spanish, Russian, Khmer, Arabic, French and German.

Part-time Work (Gateway to Study in Japan)

Part-time Job (Japan Study Support (JASS))

Finding Part-time Job (StudyinJapan comprehensive guide)

Other opportunities to gain money including being a participant for experiments by other students (e.g. filling in questionnaire), as in the UK. Students are paid approximately 1,000 yen per hour for participation. There are not as many experiments for foreigners as in UK universities. Such information is distributed through the mailing lists of universities and departments, bulletin boards in universities and university websites for part-time jobs.

Copyright © 2013 University of Leeds. Licensed under the Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivs 3.0 Unported License. To view a copy of this license, visit <http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-nd/3.0/>.